

PRESS RELEASE

For Immediate Release

Jersey Paper Company Announces it has Acquired Key Operating Assets of Clark National's Paper Plus Division in Carteret, New Jersey

(December 21, 2009 - Edison, New Jersey) Jersey Paper Company, an independent distributor of paper and plastic disposables located in Edison, New Jersey, announced today that it has acquired key assets of Clark Paper Plus, Inc. in Carteret, New Jersey, a wholly owned subsidiary of Clark National, Inc. headquartered in Elk Grove Village, Illinois. Terms of the transaction have not been disclosed.

“We believe this acquisition will expand Jersey Paper Company’s ability to service our existing customers and to provide the customers of Clark Paper Plus the quality of service for which Jersey Paper Company has long been recognized for,” said Steven Tabak, President of Jersey Paper. “Jersey Paper Company has a long standing commitment to its customers and its employees and is excited to welcome both the customers and employees of Paper Plus to the Jersey Paper Company family.”

Jersey Paper Company will operate initially from both its current Edison, New Jersey location and the Carteret, New Jersey location.

About Jersey Paper Company

JPC is a third generation, family owned distributor of paper and plastic disposables founded in 1935 by Aaron Tabak in New Brunswick, New Jersey. They are currently located in Edison, New Jersey and service the New York Metro area.